

This November – the Creative Challenge is on!

FREE workshop sessions delivered by creative professionals, to support young people in designing a window vinyl for Slough High Street – a live commission, open to all schools or settings working with young people aged 11+.

Tell me more

We are offering creative secondary aged young people the opportunity to:

- work alongside a practising artist, in your setting, during November;
- develop new creative skills;
- increase understanding of the creative sector;
- respond to a live, professional brief;
- have their work exhibited – if selected, artwork will become a vinyl for a high street window;
- gain an Arts Award qualification.

In addition, there are further opportunities to extend knowledge through a

- Q & A session, alongside teachers, young people workers and parents;
- visit to Slough's cultural hub, The Curve, as part of national 'Discover! Creative Careers' week.

Please email jessica.jhundoo@creativejunction.org.uk by 25th October with:

1. School contact details – including key contact, email and telephone number
2. Description of group and number of participants – this can be a class/after school club/group you feel would benefit most – 15 young people is an ideal number, up to max 30.
3. When your chosen group meet – days/times.

By participating, the school is committing to:

- Providing student and staff feedback of your involvement in the Find Your Way programme, through stories, quotes and photos.
- Sharing the workshop information across your school, within your resource portals and with parents.
- Sharing with us how parental engagement can/is supporting young people with decision making.

The Creative Challenge is a part of the Find Your Way programme commissioned by Slough Cultural Education Partnership, working with:
